

Assignment 1: Installation of Anaconda

1. Choose and download the required version and the OS from Anaconda.com site.

2. Type the command to install the Anaconda in Linux environment and follow the instructions suggested.

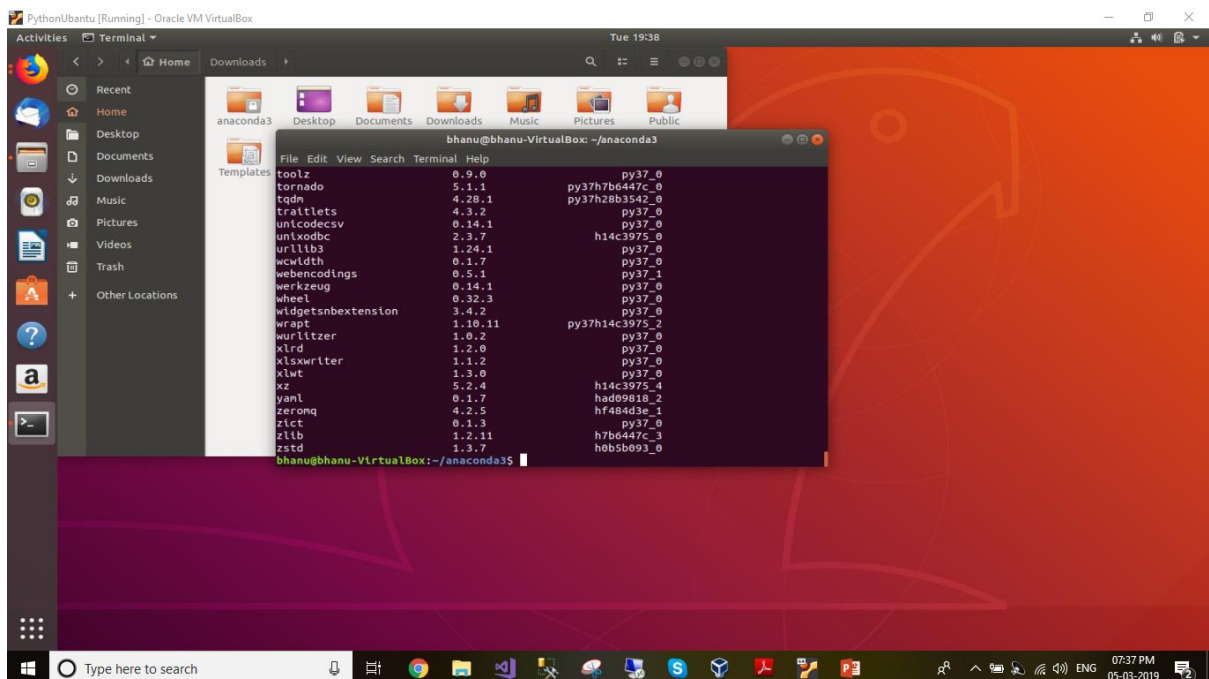

Assignment 1: Installation of Anaconda

3. We shall get the installation completed message and then we can opt to install the Microsoft VSCode.

4. Check if your installation is correct by typing “conda list” and if it displays all the packages, then your installation is successful.

5. Install Jupyter notebook by using the command – conda install jupyter notebook

Assignment 1: Installation of Anaconda

6. Start the Jupyter notebook server by using the command – `jupyter notebook`. This will open the internet explorer and you can start using the notebook.

